

John was born in Stockport, moved to London in 1974 and during a career in banking he also lived in Greece and the U.S. as well as travelling extensively.

Moving to Cartmel in 2010 was a result of a love for the Lake District which was kindled during childhood family holidays and enhanced through regular return visits as an adult.

John joined the Village Society as Secretary, is currently Treasurer and plays an active role in the Living History Project.

